WATCH "NO DEFENSE" ON DEMAND THEN JOIN A LIVE VIRTUAL PANEL

No Defense is a documentary that tells the story of the Americans who are fighting against one of the largest-known polluters in the country – the United States military. For decades, it's been documented that a category of chemicals known as PFAS are harmful to life by contaminating drinking water and surface water, yet the military continues to mandate its use at hundreds of sites across the country, with no plan in place to clean it up. Instead, the DOD is pressuring regulators to keep this toxin legal.
