

University of Michigan

25th Annual Environmental Health Sciences Research Symposium
Thursday, February 13th, 2020, 9:00am-4:00pm

Research to Action

Image Source: The George Washington University School of Public Health, <https://publichealth.gwu.edu/programs/environmental-health-science-and-policy-mph>

School of Public Health (SPH I & SPH II)
1415 Washington Heights
Ann Arbor, MI

9:00am-11:00am: Check in/Registration, Front Desk SPH 1

10:00-11:00am: Dr. David Diaz-Sanchez, Ph.D.-"Topic TBA" M1020 SPH2

11:00am-12:00pm: Dr. Myrtle Davis, Ph.D.-"Topic TBA" M1152 SPH2

12:00pm-1:30pm: Lunch, 1680 SPH1

1:30pm-3:00pm: Poster Competition, 1680 SPH 1

3:00pm-4:00pm: Adam Steinberg, B.S. -"Topic TBA" 1755 SPH1

Students and researchers in toxicology, epidemiology, and related biomedical fields are strongly encouraged to present their research during the student poster session.

To register for free, submit a poster abstract, or for more info, see our website:

ehssymposium.org

Presented by:

The Environmental Toxicology and Epidemiology Program (NIH/NIEHS T32 ES007062) with additional support from The University of Michigan Lifestage Environmental Exposures and Disease Center (P30ES017885), The Department of Environmental Health Sciences and The Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies.